

10

reasons to optimise business performance

The UK's Largest Infor M3 Partner

Associate
Channel Partner

Anthesis

#1

Increase productivity

When it comes to improving productivity and optimising your M3 system, Anthesis is the ideal partner. We assess your business needs and provide the solutions to help you reach new levels of success. Whether you are rolling out your template to several countries or upgrading in the UK, we are on hand to help. Anthesis is uniquely positioned for this, being the largest Infor M3 Partner in the UK, holding both a Global Services agreement and UK Channel partnership.

#2

Save time

Rapid response. That's the Anthesis guarantee. We understand that time is money and pride ourselves on our ability to quickly turn your problem into a solution. We build your skilled resource team based on our intimate knowledge of the best consultants available. From an individual system critical question to an urgent request for a project team, we deliver. Fast!

#3

Improve flexibility

Strategic partnerships offer you more choice. Choice is a powerful tool and that's why we make sure our customers have plenty of options. We offer consultants with cross functional skills to cover a number of roles and by aligning ourselves with the most innovative and complimentary partners, we offer proven solutions appropriate to your circumstances, giving you that competitive edge.

#4

Reduce costs

Rigorous financial controls are essential to profitability and ensure each project is delivered strictly within budget. With a mixture of permanent resources, strategic global partnerships and the strongest network of associate consultants in the market, the Anthesis delivery is always cost-effective.

#5

Protect your assets

The security of knowing we are an accredited Infor partner ensures peace of mind when you work with us. All our consultants are certified and Infor approved, most having worked for the vendor whilst also gaining worldwide experience on numerous client sites. Through our Infor partnership we have exclusive access to product updates, latest test environments and documentation.

#6

Instant access

We offer global reach with a local service. From our office in the UK we've delivered projects in over 25 countries and we work with over 200 consultants based internationally. Our expertise is in quickly identifying someone with the experience required to deliver your project. We not only give instant access to our consultants; our management team are also available as soon as you need them.

#7

Make life easier

Simplify the process. We pride ourselves on our honesty and open lines of communication. We itemise exactly what you request and focus on delivery. It doesn't need to be complicated. Using us to supply your resource ensures we facilitate cost control and escalation procedures.

#8

Reduce errors

Don't leave it to chance. The Anthesis team ensures all testing, training and documentation is completed to the highest standard, providing you with an efficient, robust system. With their extensive knowledge drawn from years of experience across multiple organisations, our consultants advise on and implement best practices. Your risk is minimised and your investment is protected.

#9

Take control

We put you in the driving seat. Take advantage of our free M3 audit, a three-day exercise where we elicit quick wins and outline a future roadmap for your business. We identify where and how you can streamline your processes to get the most from your M3 investment. You then make the decisions on where to focus resources, making you the driving force for increasing workflow and improving productivity.

#10

Grow your business

We're establishing a global footprint and we've quickly become the partner of choice for M3 users in the UK. Many clients use us in trusted-advisor capacity and we like to think our honest and open sharing of information has led us to being the preferred option for many repeat clients. We work alongside you and your business and help you achieve further success.

To find out how Anthesis can help your business grow
please contact Charles Noden
+44\(0\) 1260 2965311260296531) or email:
charles@anthesis.co.uk

